OUR FIRST FEATHERED ... (p. 1)

Before reading the story, show learners photos of fossils and feathers.

On a map show learners the area where the fossils were discovered (www.traveldrumheller.com/maps-and-guides.html). Explain also that there is a famous museum in Alberta's badlands – the Royal Tyrrell Museum with exhibits on prehistoric life (www.tyrrellmuseum.com).

Ask learners what they feel is more important - spending money on the future or spending money on the past; in other words, ask learners if they believe the government is spending too much or too little on space travel or on digging up the past.

NEW PLANET FOUND (p. 1)

What would a new planet mean for us on Earth? Why are scientists looking for new worlds?

- Omit the verbs from the sentences.
- Create a word bank with the verbs.
- Ask learners to find the correct verb for each sentence.

FINANCIAL LITERACY (p. 2 and p. 3):

Before reading, discuss the word “taboo” with your learners. What other topics of discussion are taboo in Canada? In other cultures, what is considered taboo?

Explain other vocabulary such as debt, consumer, mortgage, relationships, and so on associated with the articles on pages two and three.

Give learners scenarios with fictitious names of people in debt. How would learners solve these characters' financial problems?

BACK TO THE FUTURE 2012 NEWS QUIZ (p. 4)

Since the six news stories were released, how much has changed? For example, the protests continue in Tahrir Square. What predictions can students make about these topics in 2013?

MESSAGE IN A BOTTLE (p. 4)

Ask your students what their message would be in a bottle. How would they introduce themselves? Who would they want to find their message(s)? Check our links online to see Oisin, the bottle and the message.
